A Campus Environment

Employees at Rutgers enjoy life in the university community. There are cultural and recreational activities at Rutgers to suit all tastes—professional productions at Levin Theater; concerts, plays, and dance performances at the Mason Gross Performing Arts Center; a wide variety of exhibits at the Jane Voorhees Zimmerli Art Museum; tours of Rutgers Gardens; and lectures and guest appearances by famous and interesting people.

Special events such as the New Jersey Folk Festival, Ag Field Day, and the Faraday science children’s lecture offer family-oriented fun. Each of the university’s campuses offers recreational facilities available for employee use. After hours, catch the Rutgers spirit at intercollegiate sporting events. Rutgers offers many ways to enhance your life beyond the workplace.

The university environment provides a unique work setting. The campuses themselves vary in character, from historic quads to high-tech science complexes. Many employees interact directly with our students, and even for those who don’t, there is a sense of purpose that pervades the university as we prepare the next generation of leaders and serve the citizens of New Jersey. And if you are interested in educational opportunities for yourself, there are a number of possible avenues that may be available to you as an employee.
