60.1.1 EMPLOYMENT OF RELATIVES

It is the policy of Rutgers University to seek the most qualified employees for its faculty and staff positions.

Members of the same family or household may be selected for faculty and staff positions when it has been determined that they are qualified for the position and their selection does not conflict with the provisions of this Regulation.

Members of the same family or household may not be selected for faculty or staff positions if selection would create a supervisor/subordinate relationship between family and household members; would have the potential for creating an adverse impact on work performance; or would create either an actual conflict of interest or the appearance of a conflict of interest. Further, no family or household member shall have hiring authority over another family or household member nor shall vote, make recommendations or in any other way participate in the decision of any matter that may directly affect the appointment, tenure, promotion, demotion, salary or other status or interest of a family or household member. Employees are expected to voluntarily absent themselves from participation in personnel decisions in which a family or household member is involved.

For the purposes of this Regulation, family or household member includes the following: spouse, domestic partner, child, parent, sibling, in-law, aunt, uncle, niece, nephew, grandparent, grandchild, or other members of a household. This regulation also applies to romantic relationships.

Employees who become family or household members or establish a romantic relationship may continue employment as long as it does not involve any of the above conditions. If any of the above conditions should occur, attempts will be made to find a suitable position within the University to which one of the employees will transfer, or, if possible, assign job duties so as to minimize problems of supervision, safety, security or morale. If accommodations of this nature are not feasible, the employees will be permitted to determine which of them will resign. If the employees cannot make a decision, the University will decide in its sole discretion which employee will remain employed.

Temporary summer workers who are family or household members of regularly appointed faculty or staff employees may not be employed in the same department as the regularly appointed faculty or staff employees.
